St. Margaret's in Strong Position

St. Denis, Good Counsel and Annunciation
Among Big Four

With the close of the regular season getting closer and closer it seems apparent that neither of the two finalists in the Montdel League championship game last season will be in the list of four teams which will take part in the league playoffs this year. Death knell of the hopes for the St. Laurence team, which won the title last year, was probably rung Sunday at Preston when Harold Bonners dropped both ends of a double-header to its Good Counsel rival.

Despite losses to each other in their own little circle it seems apparent that the final four will be St. Margaret's, of Narberth; Good Counsel, of Bryn Mawr; St. Denis, from Oakmont, and Annunciation, from Brookline. Although dividing a pair of games during the past week St. Margaret's has virtually clinched first place, while the other three have drawn so far ahead of the rest of the field that the battle for positions seems at an end.

Only one team which might have a chance to get into the finals is Bill Roger's St. Thomas club, from Villanova. The Tommies pulled an upset when they bounced the second-place Good Counsel team 7-2, Tuesday at Preston, but that 3-1 setback handed them by St. Denis Sunday at Garrett Hill hurt. Highlight performance of the week was turned in by Bill "Frecks" Turner, the fast-ball right-hander for St. Denis. Frecks pitched the most noteworthy no-hit, no-run game of the Montdel campaign.

Grant Ardmore Men Patent Rights

The last group of patent grants to be announced by the United States Patent Office in July include Cornelius M. Connor and Harold E. Strang, both of Ardmore.

Connor invented a sterilized package, involving two new ideas according to patent examiners. His application was filed January 20, 1938. Connor has assigned his patent rights to The Glassine Paper Company, West Conshohocken. Strang filed application June 8, 1940, for a patent on an electric circuit breaker. Patent examiners approved seven claims for originality in connection with the invention. Strang has assigned his patent rights to General Electric Company, a corporation of New York.

Persons Must Call For Rationing Books

All persons submitting original supplemental applications for gasoline rationing, or their agents, should call in person at the Rationing Board, Township Building, Ardmore, with their vehicle registration cards five days after their applications were made to receive their supplemental allotments. The Rationing Board has announced.

Many such supplemental rationing books are waiting to be issued, and no notification will be sent by mail to those who are to receive them.

County Bond Quota Set At $1,607,800

Three Main Liners Are Members Of Campaign Committee

Confident the Montgomery County War Bond drive exceeded its July goal, various Committee Chairmen Wednesday reported to headquarters in the Norristown-Penn Trust Company building, Norristown, that all groups have set into motion the important task of meeting a $1,607,800 quota set for this County for August.

The July quota was $1,841,000 and latest figures available, up until July 15th, showed $1,143,000 had been subscribed. Rodney K. Merrick, county chairman, said he is certain the final July subscription will be over the top and added the official announcement may be made this week.

Mr. Merrick urged more persons to pledge at least ten percent of their salaries for the purchase of Bonds and Stamps, and announced nine plants and firms have been awarded the "Minute Man Flag" since the office was established recently in Norristown. The flag indicates at least ninety percent of employees have pledged a part of the weekly salaries for War Bonds and Stamps.

Chairmen of Committees already organized and functioning in the County Campaign are: Banking and Finance, J. Warren Ziegler, Norristown; Education, A. M. Kulp, Superintendent of County Schools; Public Employees, Fred C. Peters, President of County Commissioners, and Clarence E. Burkhardt, president Montgomery County Borough Association; Industry, R. R. Lawson, Sumner Tubing Co., Chairman, and Walter A. Knerr, Secretary of Montgomery County Manufacturers' Ass'n, Secretary, Women's Organizations, Mrs. William S. Peace, Rydal.

Labor, George Dugan, A. F. of L., and R. G. Davidson, C. I. O.; Agriculture, R. G. Waltz, County Farm Agent; Trade, Fred Dreher, Ardmore; Charles H. Westrich, Norristown; C. J. Urged To Ride At Off-Peak Hours

Transportation Of War
Workers Tax Buses
And Trolleys

Red Arrow Lines, operating from 69th Street Terminal, urge shoppers to avoid using buses and rail cars at morning and evening rush hours except in cases of most urgent necessity. The transportation system has pressed into service every available vehicle but even so the added burden on facilities imposed by the recent influx into this area of hundreds of thousands of additional war workers is severe.

It is hoped that a plan for staggered working hours in commercial establishments and offices which is now being worked out by the War Production Board, the Office of Defense Transportation and civic authorities will relieve the strain of transportation facilities shortly. Meanwhile, the public is being urged to cooperate so that war workers will not experience unnecessary delays in reaching their jobs.

Between 10 A. M. and 3 P. M. and again after 7 P. M., there is more assurance of getting a seat on buses and rail cars.

Narberth Hardest Hit In Heavy Downpour

Narberth Borough in the vicinity of the Community Playground was one of the suburban sections that suffered the worst in last Friday afternoon's downpour.

In places the water was three and one-half inches deep. Motors either were stalled or forced to detour about Haverford av. from Wynnewood to Conway av.

According to George B. Suplee, the Borough's superintendent of public works, the flood at this point was caused by the backing up of a creek that flows under the Playground. Damage consisted in a deposit of silt on the basketball and tennis courts.

The heavy limbs of trees were reported blown down at 110 Essex av. and 309 S. Narberth av.

Red Cross Sponsors Water Safety Course

The officers and directors of the Mill Dam Club have donated their club facilities of the pool, and the Wayne Motor Corps has offered to transport to the Dam the pupils of this class, which has been limited to 25 people.

Picture Shows Work Of Air Raid Warden

A short, entitled "Your Air Raid Warden," will be shown on August 6, 7 and 8, at the Egyptian Theatre.

It is sponsored by the War Activities Committee of the Motion Picture Industry and produced with great skill by the Research Council of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. The subject combines intense dramatic situations with a complete portrayal of everything an air raid warden must do to reduce the hazards of bombing.

On December 3, Ed Pollock, noted sports writer, will discuss "Personalities," and a Christmas party is scheduled for December 17.

The first meeting in 1943 will be on January 7, when Dr. Richard H. Shyrock, 317 Cherry Bend, Merion, professor of American History at the University of Pennsylvania, will speak on current events. Dr. Shyrock was recently awarded a research grant-in-aid by the Social Science Research Council to assist him in the completion of a research project. The award gives him permission to use records not usually open to the public. Mrs. William Everhart, Jr., chairman of

Many Show Interest In Borough Plan For War Festival

Numerous telephone calls received at the office of OUR TOWN this week indicate that considerable interest has been aroused in the Borough in the plan to sponsor a War Festival in mid-September to raise funds for Christmas boxes for Borough men in the armed forces.

Representatives of various organizations and interest groups have expressed themselves as willing to lend whatever support they may be called upon to give, but definite leadership for the project has not been established.

However, OUR TOWN understands that the Executive Committee of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion will meet shortly to discuss the possibilities of assuming the leadership of the plan.

It seems to us a logical thing that the American Legion, composed of men who remember war-time Christmas away from home, should lead the way in this proposed friendly community gesture toward the men in this war.

Personnel Changes In Red Cross

Mrs. Sumner Rulon-Miller, 500 County Line rd., Haverford, has been elected a vice chairman of the Main Line Branch No. 1, American Red Cross.

Mrs. Rulon-Miller has been active with the Branch since 1939. She has served as vice chairman of the Special Volunteer Services Department and vice chairman of the Surgical Dressing Department.

The Red Cross has also announced the resignation of Mrs. E. S. Rockefeller, who has recently moved from Merion to Maryland, as chairman of the Junior Red Cross department and of Mrs. Karl Schoettle, Ardmore, as Chairman of Staff Assistants.

Dr. G. A. Hahn Buys Merion Residence

William Fugh's Merion Office reports the sale of 341 N. Bowman av., Merion, at $12,000, for the estate of Edward A. Shumway to Dr. George A. Hahn. The property is a stone, Colonial type, and contains ten rooms and three baths.

Gladwyne And Narberth Invade Manoa to Break Tie

If it weren't for the rather important matter of deciding the first place cash prize, the championship playoffs in the Main Line Baseball League could start tomorrow. Gladwyne, Manoa, Narberth and the Collegians are mathematically sure of being in the post-season games. They could lose all their remaining games and still finish ahead of Brookline and Overbrook, the other teams in the league.

But the matter of first place and the order of finish still ranks among the very important unfinished business. Gladwyne, Manoa and Narberth are locked in a tie for first place and the Collegians are in fourth place just two games off the pace.

Manoa and Narberth created the triple tie by sweeping their pair of games last week while the pace-setting Gladwyne nine broke even. The spotlight swings to Manoa this week where the defending champions will entertain Gladwyne and Narberth on successive days.

Petition Of Shipley School To Open Junior Department Upheld By Court

Discounts Residents' Objection To Children And Contention That Real Estate Would Be
Depreciated; Sustains L. M. Zoning Board

In upholding a decision of the Lower Merion Board of Adjustment, the Montgomery County Court gives Shipley School in Bryn Mawr permission to open a junior department in a residential zone nearby at Roberts Rd. and Wyndon av.

The decision was handed down by Judge Harold G. Knight last Friday. The case went to Common Pleas Court on an appeal by residents from the decision of the zoning board. They contended that the noise of the children attending the school would be objectionable and that nearby real estate holdings would be depreciated in value.

"No doubt there will be some noise," Judge Knight commented. "Children are children the world over, and they have a God-given right to play, and to enjoy all the little games of childhood. It is a matter of common knowledge, however, that little girls are less rough, boisterous and mischievous in their play, than boys. The distances of the houses of the protestors from the playground, the fact that during the summer when windows will be open and folks sitting out doors, the school will be closed; the additional fact that there will be no organized athletics at the school; all lead us to the opinion that the fears of the protestors are not warranted by the facts."

The Shipley School, a 50-year-old corporation, has conducted a school for girls on Yarrow Avenue, Bryn Mawr. Among its activities it conducts a junior school for about 125 young girls between the ages of six and 10.

Merion Man for Rationing Board

Would Fill Vacancy
Left by J. A. Lafore
Who is in Navy

A recommendation of the Montgomery County Price Control and Rationing Board and Civilian Defense Council that Louis I. Matthews, Merion, formerly chairman of Local Rationing Board Four, Bryn Mawr, be named a member of the Montgomery County Board has been forwarded to the Office of Price Administration.

Matthews has been recommended for the County Board to take the place of John A. Lafore, Merion, now a Lieutenant, Senior Grade, in the United States Navy. Alexander L. Crawford, Bryn Mawr, a member of the Bryn Mawr Board, has been recommended to the OPA for the chairmanship of that board to take the place held by Matthews.

The vacancy on the Local Board will be filled, according to the recommendation, by Mrs. Mildred Coward, Bryn Mawr, who has been engaged for some time in volunteer work with the Bryn Mawr unit.

If Mrs. Coward is appointed by the OPA she will become the first woman member of a Local Rationing Board in Montgomery County. None of these changes are effective, however, until they receive the stamp of approval of the OPA.

Rotarians Tell
Of Community Work

Suggestions as to how their community could be served were made by members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club when they attended a luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at the Overbrook Golf Club.

In the absence of the scheduled speaker, Dr. Francis Smith, the members were called upon by George W. R. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the day, to answer questions about Rotary activities.

Narberth Day on July 4, an event in which many Rotarians participated, was cited as an outstanding accomplishment.

Dr. Munro Purse, club president, presided.

The speaker declared that leadership, understanding and fairness were essential in modern business management. He advocated frequent meetings between employers and employees to discuss mutual business problems.

Local Hospitals Receive $230,000

Delaware County And
Bryn Mawr Benefit
Under Plan

Hospitals in the Main Line and vicinity have received approximately $230,000 from the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia, records of the Blue Cross hospital plan reveal.

Figures released this week by the Blue Cross Plan show that Bryn Mawr Hospital has been paid $146,899.21; Chester County Hospital (West Chester) $12,496.12; and Delaware County Hospital (Drexel Hill) $70,597.76, with payments covering the period from December, 1938, through July 1942. Hospitals are reimbursed on the basis of the number of days care provided subscribers.

These figures are part of a total hospital bill of $4,600,000 which the Associated Hospital Service has paid for nearly 79,000 of its hospitalized subscribers. $3,900,000 has been paid to 65 southeastern Pennsylvania member hospitals; the remaining $500,000 went to non-member hospitals—in Pennsylvania and in distant parts of the United States or outside this country.

Dispose Of Cook
And Guckes Estates

Provisions for distribution of an estate valued at $125,000 are contained in the will of Mary R. Guckes, Ardmore, who died July 22. Executors are given her estate at Ardmore in trust to permit a son, Philip Exton Guckes, to occupy it as his residence, and to dispose of the property in the event he fails to reside there. In the event he occupies the premises he is given power of appointment to dispose of it at his death. The decedent directed the son, Exton, permit her son, Robert, to reside with him.

Chester P. Cook, Lower Merion, who died July 16, named his wife Laura R. Cook, sole beneficiary of an estate valued at $6,300.

Weekly Test of Air Raid Sirens

Until further notice, there will be a weekly test of sirens each Saturday noon at 12:05 o'clock, Eastern War Time.

The test alarms will not be more than 20 seconds in duration and in no case will be followed by the All-Clear signal. They will be held merely to test the mechanical readiness and effectiveness of the system and to acquaint the public with the alarms.

The Citizens' Defense Corps will not be mobilized during this brief period, and there need be no interruption of general public activities.

Building Report
Drops To New Low

Township Experienced
Dullest July In Quarter of a Century

During July, Lower Merion Township experienced one of the lowest building construction months in a quarter of a century.

Only 68 permits were issued by the building department and the cost of these permits only reached $31,238. Last July the Township granted 127 permits at a cost of $420,672.

The decrease for seven months of this year, as compared to the same period last year, now amounts to 270 permits and a loss in valuation amounting to $2,284,063. From January to July 31 in 1941 there were 853 permit issued at a cost of $3,858,010 and for the same period this year only 583 permits have been issued at a cost of $1,573,947.

Bulk of the permits were issued for alterations, additions and repairs. This accounted for 50 of the ing the past month. Other small items of construction included two permits for awnings, one for a playhouse, one for a private garage, five for signs, three demolitions, three tool houses and only two permits for single family dwellings. Only one oil burner was installed during the month.

1000 Jars Of Food Stuff
Being Canned For Needy

Women are making an important contribution toward the feeding of needy groups during the coming Winter with the voluntary canning of surplus crops contributed through the canning group of the Victory Garden Committee of the Lower Merion Township Council of Defense.

According to Mrs. Owen J. Toland, Wynnewood, chairman of the Committee, a group of 10 or more women have been contributing their time each Tuesday and Wednesday since July 21 for this community project, working at the request of the Main Line Federation of Churches which has asked for 1,000 jars of foodstuffs.

Various gardens with surpluses have provided the canning classes, under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. Casper Wister, with an abundance of fresh vegetables and fruits, and the group has been putting up string beans, beets, carrots, apple sauce, tomatoes, tomato juice, squash and peaches. Arrangements have been made with Mrs. Toland and Mrs. Wister to get the produce to the Ardmore Junior High School early each Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

Canning classes, started July 6 with two groups of 20 women taking the course three days a week at the school under the voluntary supervision of Miss M. Kirk, teacher of economics. Mrs. Wister made the necessary arrangement, donating some of the equipment herself and obtaining donations of the remainder.

For Fire Companies

Five hundred feet of 2½-inch hose from the supply now stored in the Township's garage were allotted each company in Lower Merion for emergency use with auxiliary pumps Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Council of Defense.

It was also reported that two ramps have been completed along the banks of the Schuylkill River. This affords the dwellings at these points protection and also makes it possible to pump water from the river to the regular apparatus should the Springfield Water Company's mains be damaged.

During the test blackout on July 22, a total of 228 firemen responded for duty, 112 volunteers and 116 auxiliary men.

Means of Livelihood

Coffee is one of the most important Puerto Rican industries. Nearly one-quarter of the population depends on it for a livelihood. Although sugar plantations occupy more acreage than coffee and bring in a larger revenue, the coffee industry in Puerto Rico employs a greater number of workers, since intensive cultivation is practiced, and harvesting the precious beans is a slow, careful process.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKinnon

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE has for many years been one of the most esteemed figures in American journalism. Whether or not he put Emporia on the map, he certainly put the Emporia Gazette there, and for decades his paper has been famed far outside the borders of Kansas. Recently, he wrote a letter to newspaper editors throughout the country calling their attention to an article that appeared in the July 4th issue of the Saturday Evening Post. This article, called "Invisible Greenbacks," by Harry Sherman, was a lucid presentation of the necessity for buying War Bonds as a brake against inflation, and White felt that the more people did something about it, the better off we would be.

Well, you should see the batch of letters that White received from editors all over the country. It seems that just about every editor in the land knew Bill White and had things on his mind he wanted to tell him. Two or three times a year, White gets to New York to take in a meeting of the Book-of-the-Month Club's editorial committee. He's been one of the Club's judges since that organization started back in 1926. When he can't get to New York, he sends long telegrams from Emporia, advising his colleagues of his candidates for the book-of-the-month.

Incidentally, Bill White has a son who is pretty good as a journalist himself. Recently, young Bill White had a book selected by the Club for distribution in October, titled, "They Were Expendable," about which we'll be hearing a lot pretty soon.

Bill Senior never mentioned his son's book in his monthly telegram to the Club, but it's a safe bet that he's mighty proud of the boy's achievement. Here's a telegram sent to him in Emporia from the other three members of the Club's editorial board—Henry Seidel Canby, Dorothy Canfield and Christopher Morley:

IT'S OUR UNANIMOUS INTENTION TO CHOOSE THE BOOK YOU DID NOT MENTION. GOSH, BILL, HOW THAT BOY CAN WRITE! WE CHOSE THE BOOK BY W. L. WHITE.

When Mary Heaton Vorse, author of one of the best chronicles about Provincetown we've ever read, "Time and the Town," first caught sight of that picturesque village, she says she knew at once that it was her home. The townspeople were a bit slower, however, about acknowledging her. They are inclined to look down on those who are "off Cape" just as the natives of Nantucket consider everybody else in the world "off islanders." After Mrs. Vorse had lived thirty-five years in Provincetown, a neighbor of hers said, "We've gotten to think of you as one of us." It was said—and received—as a great compliment.

Quinine is a necessity in Africa, Ben Lucien Burman tells us in his interesting account of the Free French troops, "Miracle On the Congo." One of the first gestures of hospitality on the part of the men to whom he talked was to offer him a quinine tablet. "We call them bonbons here," one Frenchman told him.

Army Officer's Son Drowns in Storm Sewer; Body Recovered

The body of Thomas Neville, 6, who drowned when he fell into a storm sewer near his home on Valley rd., Llanerch, last Friday evening, was found Tuesday on the bank of Cobbs Creek near the 69th St. Terminal in Upper Darby.

Thomas, who was the son of Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Francis N. Neville, was wading in the storm sewer overflow with his brother, Robert, 8, when he stepped over the retaining wall and was swept away by the rain-swollen stream. The sewer empties into Cobbs Creek.

Attempts by his brother and other companions nearby to rescue Thomas were futile.

The body was identified by the child's elder brother, Francis N. Neville, Jr., at Delaware County Hospital.

Burial was in Arlington National Cemetery.

Mrs. Rose, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of aqua crepe trimmed with coral and a corsage of orchids.

County To Erect Traffic Signs On 80 Miles Of Highway

Work began this week on erection of traffic signs on 80 miles of Montgomery County highways by County Highway Department forces.

The signs, yellow and black reflectorized symbol signs, were purchased by County Commissioners Fred C. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch in order to help make the County highways safer. By indicating crossroads, intersecting roads, curves and other hazards, by means of these signs, the Commissioners hope to reduce accidents on County highways. Traffic accidents they point out, result in waste of manpower, interfere with war production and waste vital materials and transportation facilities.

A total of 385 signs were purchased for approximately $2200.00. With the exception of one type, all signs are reflectorized with high quality glass reflector buttons. Approval of all signs was obtained by C. O. Cooke, County Superintendent of Roads and Bridges, from the Traffic Division, Pennsylvania Department of Highways. The sign erection will be under the supervision of Robert M. Cameron, County Safety Engineer.

Turner had one of those nights when he had everything. Faced with several of the best hitters in the circuit he had them under his thumb with but one exception. That was in the fourth frame when Walt Plantz, who had previously spoiled a no-hitter for Good Counsel's Joe Tobin, lined what appeared to be a sure single into center field. Center-fielder John Foley came racing in on the ball, made a sensational diving catch to save the no-hitter with one of the most sensational catches of the year.

Turner had 12 strike-outs and issued but two passes to gain his no-hitter, first of his career and second of the year for a St. Denis hurler Jack McMonigle had previously hurled a no-hitter against St. Colman's.

Appreciates Work Of Narberth Red Cross

Somewhere in Northern Ireland
8 July 1942
Director, American Red Cross,
Narberth Chapter,
Narberth, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter to tell you of my appreciation of the work of the organization to which you are a member, is doing for me and many others.

I have often heard and seen pictures of the work and help the American Red Cross renders to those who are victims of either circumstances or of catastrophes.

I am a member of the United States Army and stationed in Northern Ireland. Being in a foreign country with customs that occasionally seem strange, makes me realize the work that the American Red Cross is doing to make people feel comfortable.

The American Red Cross has taken over two buildings in the city of Belfast. These buildings are like an oasis in a desert to the American Soldier or Sailor visiting or stationed in this city. A Soldier or Sailor entering these buildings has a feeling of being at home because of the ease in which he is received and the lack of formality which we Americans enjoy. The American food which is served is the same as the men receive in their respective camps and can only be obtained at the Red Cross or in one of our military camps. The food that is served now is sandwiches and tea, coffee and milk. I have heard that as soon as the equipment is secured and set in operation, hot meals will be served regularly.

I am sure that there are many others who, like myself, are writing to their home town chapters to express their appreciation for the work which each far flung chapter of the American Red Cross in the United States is doing for these in foreign countries.

I wish to extend to you and to each and every member of the Narberth Chapter, my deepest appreciation for the small part they are playing in so large an organization. Being a Narberth boy, I know how hard they are working. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely yours,
Henry A. Smith, Jr.

CALLING THE TURN

A $5.00 Hit
Last Saturday's Narberth-Gladwyne baseball game was tied at 1-1 when Russ Herrmann, veteran Narberth outfielder, came to the plate with a runner on second base in the fourth inning.

"Stop by and see me after the hit, Russ," boomed Ray Cabrey, president of the Narberth club, from his spot in the stands along third base.

"I'll be right over," grinned Herrmann confidently.

A few minutes later Herrmann slashed a sharp single to left center to drive in the run that put the borough tossers ahead for keeps.

At the conclusion of his inning's chores in the outfield Herrmann kept his appointment with Cabrey. The latter handed a folded bit of green paper to the player.

Herrmann unfolded it carefully and, as he skipped happily to the bench, he held it up for everyone to see:

A crisp $5 bill!
BURNS MOST VALUABLE
Joey Burns, Narberth third baseman, ought to be a cinch for the Main Line League's most valuable player award this year.

Burns, who spent several seasons in Class A minor league ball, is enjoying one of his greatest seasons and is setting the pace in almost every department in the league.

By collecting five hits over the week-end, Burns moved into the lead for the batting championship with an average of .410. He leads the league in hits, 34; in runs scored with 21 and home runs with three. He stole six bases to share the lead with Henderson, of Manoa, in this department.

We have no figures on his fielding, but he's been just as steady and efficient in this part of the game as the others. He makes the hardest tries look easy. He has the finest arm in the league, resembling Jimmy Dykes in his heyday by the manner in which he rifles the ball across to first.

Several years ago when Burns was still a youngster and hadn't yet been in the minors, we included him among a list of all-time Main Line League greats. Many took issue with the selection and criticized us severely.

Burns' play since then has more than upheld our early appraisal of his ability. It should be quite evident to everyone now that Joey Burns rates on a par with the greatest third basemen who ever donned a glove in the Main Line League.

OLDTIMER PASSES
Jack Hayden, one of the first Main Liners to make the grade in the big leagues, died on Monday at his home, 570 Barrett av., Haverford. A native of Bryn Mawr, where he owned a meat and provisions store, he was 62 years old.

Hayden, a graduate of Villanova and the dental school of the University of Maryland where he played baseball and football, abandoned the dental profession after two years practice to start his professional baseball career with the A's in 1901. He later played with the Boston Red Sox and Baltimore. He managed the Louisville club of the American Association from 1912 to 1915.

After quitting organized ball he played for several seasons with Bryn Mawr and other teams in the Main Line League.

Just a couple months ago Hayden was recalling his career for several of his cronies and newspaper men. He got one of his biggest thrills out of baseball by participating in the memorable 24-inning game between the Boston Red Sox and the A's on September 1, 1906. Rightfielder and leadoff batter for the Red Sox, Hayden got two hits off Jack Coombs who went the full route for the A's. The latter scored three runs in the 24th to break a 1-1 tie.

Hayden recalled that the A's stretch drive. Arnott, who has been pitching in the Philadelphia League, and Westervelt, former Upper Darby High star, hurled Manoa to its pennant last season.

Arnott made his first appearance on the Manoa mound last Sunday as the champs whipped Brookline, 7-4. He'll probably face Narberth in Sunday's game while the veteran Bob Allison, who blanked Overbrook with three hits in a 3-0 Saturday triumph, most likely will be called upon to halt Gladwyne.

Westervelt will be around for insurance.

Bill O'Donnell, an old Manoa jinx, will do the chucking for Gladwyne, while either Bill Smith or Stan Zetuskys will face the champs for Narberth.

Narberth is riding high at the moment, having defeated all three playoff teams in order, and appears the biggest threat to Manoa's crown.

Zetuskys, a husky righthander from Wisconsin, appears to be the pitcher Manager Gene Davis has been seeking as a partner to young Smith, the Villanova College sophomore. He made his debut Saturday by outpitching Gladwyne's O'Donnell as Narberth scored a 4-3 victory over the Keyrels.

Cool and most effective in the pinches, Zetuskys held Gladwyne to six hits, fanned eight and drove in the game's deciding runs with a double in the sixth inning.

Smith, who is becoming more popular with borough fans with each succeeding game, turned in an even more sparkling performance on Sunday when he shutout the Collegians with five hits as Narberth triumphed, 3-0. He fanned seven and collected two of Narberth's nine hits, one of which was a double.

Caravello, Collegians' outfielder, got three of the invaders' hits.

Joey Burns, veteran third baseman, was Narberth's batting hero, collecting two hits against Gladwyne and three against the Collegians. This enabled him to take the lead in the race for the batting crown as Gladwyne's George Kucheruk, previous pacesetter, was unable to get a hit off Zetuskys on Saturday and he didn't play on Sunday.

Ray Presutti, the slim righthander from Cynwyd, took the lead for league pitching honors when he hurled Gladwyne to a 7-4 victory over Overbrook on Sunday. It was his fifth triumph in seven games. He fanned nine but had trouble with his control and walked five.

Overbrook was a stubborn rival although pitcher Riddaugh was touched for 17 hits. He kept them so well scattered that Gladwyne needed a three run rally in the seventh to break a 4-4 tie and clinch the verdict.

The veteran George Myers paced Gladwyne with three hits.

Johnny Kelly sparked Manoa to its two victories with five safeties.

Joe Irvin, Jr., and second baseman Rosenfeld each smashed out three hits during the Collegians' 13-1 rout of Brookline at Lansdowne on Saturday. Frank Carter allowed just seven hits in winning his third straight game.

would have been beaten by a shutout but for a lucky run they scored in the second inning. Coombs brought in that tally after getting on base by a swinging bunt that caused Harris, Red Sox pitcher, to stumble when he tried to field it.

out on the porch, and when he got him outside, Wescoat said he would "run down and see what the lady wanted done." Going in, he latched the screen door on the inside, ran to the home of Henry Clayton, 124 Edgemoor rd. and called the Lower Merion Police.

"I think I have your jewel thief trapped at my home," he informed them.

Wescoat rushed back to the house, picked up his revolver, in case the man got suspicious, and walked out onto the porch.

Just as he arrived, a police car stopped and two policemen came up the steps. They arrived at 12:18 p. m., just eight minutes after the colored man knocked on Wescoat's door.

The would-be window-washer bluffed a bit when arrested, but went with the officers quietly. Later, police told Wescoat the man was the one they sought.

The police have refused to divulge the man's name, saying only that he has numerous aliases, since they are conducting an intensive investigation. It is believed that the man has been implicated in other robberies elsewhere.

The "Jewel Thief" will have a hearing this week-end after detectives have finished questioning him.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor

Sir:

I cannot resist writing to tell you about the very inspiring spectacle that Ventnor City put on this morning in order to send nine young men away to war in an appropriate manner.

The band began to break the early morning stillness, and we all roused ourselves to see what could have happened, when it dawned on me that this morning was the time set for the 39 "draftees" to leave. So we all got up and flew to the windows and the porch. The crowds were already gathered in front of Ventnor City Hall. After the band would play a lively tune, a Victrola record was played. This kept up for a half hour or more and the people kept gathering.

After a while flags were brought out and placed on the steps of City Hall, a large American flag and then I suppose the City flag. Then everyone got quiet and the Mayor stood up between the flags and spoke to the boys for about ten minutes.

After that the band played the "National Anthem" and everyone who was sitting stood up. Everyone on Johnson's (Merion Park residents) porch arose. We all rose and stood on our porch and people who were walking on the street stood still.

Then a large bus appeared and all the boys climbed in and seated themselves. Two Salvation Army lassies appeared with large baskets and handed something in the window to each boy, coffee and doughnuts, I imagine. Then with great cheering and waving the bus pulled off. The letterman told me that they were going to Camp Dix.

The whole proceeding was very impressive and so different from what happens in our little town. I think that Narberth could surely learn something from this touching send-off this morning. It was really beautiful, and it demonstrated that Narberth could improve very much on its indifferent manner of sending our local boys away.
